

Support Coordination

NDIS Planning Tool

Support Coordination is about linking you with the right disability and mainstream services to meet the goals you have in your NDIS plan. At CPSN, our Support Coordinators will help you explore all your options, and support you to choose the services and providers that are right for you. Our Support Coordinators will help you get started with your plan, find and manage your supports, and prepare for your plan review.

Aims and Outcomes

Support Coordination is about connecting you to your community. Initially this is achieved by sourcing and linking you with the right services and supports for your needs. This includes personal support services to assist you with daily living, equipment, health and wellbeing, as well as social and recreational programs and more. Support Coordination can also help you build capacity so that you can source, coordinate and implement your supports in the long run, giving you greater independence and the ability to participate in your community.

Getting Support Coordination included in your NDIS plan

The entire cost of Support Coordination can be included in your NDIS plan. Before heading into your planning meeting, consider if you need to transfer all of your existing supports onto the NDIS, or if you need to find new supports to reach your goals.

During your NDIS planning meeting talk about the assistance you need to implement your plan. Talk to your planner about the complexity of your goals and whether you need to identify new supports and the assistance you will need for this. Identify which goals are likely to require more support to identify participation options and connect with service providers.

If you are already on a NDIS plan and need help to add Support Coordination to your plan, please contact CPSN on 1300 277 600.
